

STORYTIME AT HOME

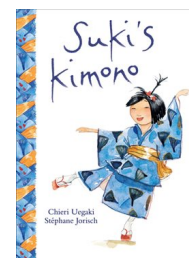

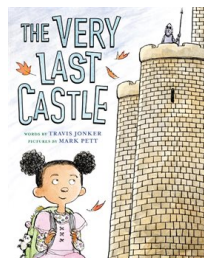

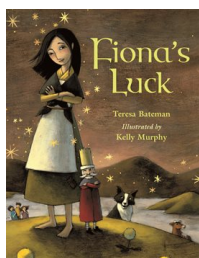

Mighty Girls and Fantastic Women

You and your little one can enjoy storytime at home.

Read and Talk

Head over to Hoopla digital to check out some of these titles about mighty girls, all available with your library card:

- Fiona's Luck by Teresa Bateman <https://tinyurl.com/2ve5xy3e>
- One Girl by Andrea Beaty <https://tinyurl.com/ft3lld1b>
- The Very Last Castle by Travis Jonker <https://tinyurl.com/t0qm301v>
- The Most Magnificent Thing by Ashley Spires <https://tinyurl.com/1344i7rf>
- Suki's Kimono by Chieri Uegaki <https://www.hoopladigital.com/title/11425959>

It doesn't matter whether you read it or just look at it and talk about the pictures in the book (or just part of it). Enjoy this special time with your little one in your lap.

Sing and Dance

Picture yourself at the ocean and sing and dance along with the fabulous Ella Jenkins. The Wisconsin State Journal has called her "the first lady of children's Folk song."

Rhyme

Girls can jump over candlesticks, too. Draw a candle, cut it out, and have your child jump over it while reciting this nursery rhyme:

Jane (or insert your child's name) be nimble
Jane be quick
Jane jump over the candlestick

What are your favorite nursery rhymes?

Play

Read about Dr. Patricia Bath who became an eye doctor when most doctors were white men.

- Talk about your eyes. Does everyone in your household have the same colored eyes?
- Do you really need two eyes? Carefully cover one of your eyes with your hand. Do you notice a difference?
- Play "I spy" with your child.

Write

Color and art can truly change your life. Read Maybe Something Beautiful, draw a picture, and write a note to someone you love just like Mira.
